

Californians Team-Up at Solar Power 2008

TeamCalifornia members will be representing the State at the "Solar Power International 2008" conference at the San Diego Convention Center October 13 -16. Members will be staffing a booth, number 238 at a Conference that has over 400 companies exhibiting at the show.

TeamCalifornia attendees include the City of Merced, City of Chula Vista, City of San Diego, City of Santa Cruz, the Imperial Valley, County of Riverside, Victor Valley, Central Coast, Coachella Valley, Upstate, Sacramento Municipal Utility District and the State of California.

Lieutenant Governor John Garamendi, a TeamCalifornia member, will also be attending the conference on Thursday, October 16, 2008, and staffing the booth that afternoon.

The Conference will highlight new technologies such as photovoltaic manufacturing, solar electric devices, solar hot water heaters, and solar pool heating systems will be on display. Representatives of financial institutions will be available to help explain funding options to pay for a solar energy system. Over 30 different workshop sessions are planned to explain the basics of solar power to more technical topics as the proper installation methods will be discussed.

Member of TeamCalifornia have scheduled appointments with firms that are attending the show that have indicated an interest in expanding their current operations or developing new projects in the California market.

California business and lifestyle.....Find Innovation Here.

#